

'Good News Down the Street' Course Leaflet

We have modified a simple course about the Christian faith which has in mind anyone who is interested in sorting out for themselves if it is true and relevant to the world today. It consists of five sessions based on the life and teachings of Jesus Christ. During the course we look at various passages in the New Testament in an easy-to-read modern English version which we provide. We hope that these passages stimulate discussion as well as give information about what Jesus actually said and did. In our experience, many people have rather hazy ideas about such things- all they can remember are snippets of information from R.E. lessons at school, or what they have seen in films or the occasional visit to church. Many people, too, have lots of unanswered questions and welcome the opportunity to discuss them with someone who may be able to point them towards an answer.

We will send you a team of three people, who are ordinary members of the congregation, to work through the course with you. They may not be able to answer all your questions on the spot, but they will be able to share with you what they have found to be true about the Christian faith in their own experiences and will always try to find an answer to your queries.

The team will come to your home during the day-time or any evening that is convenient to you and will stay as long or as short a time as you want them to.

We hope to send teams out to homes next in :- February / March 2018.
